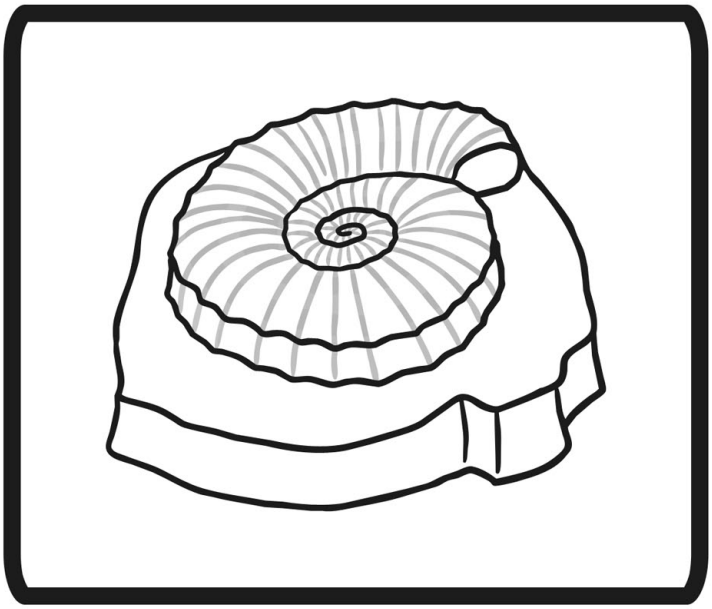
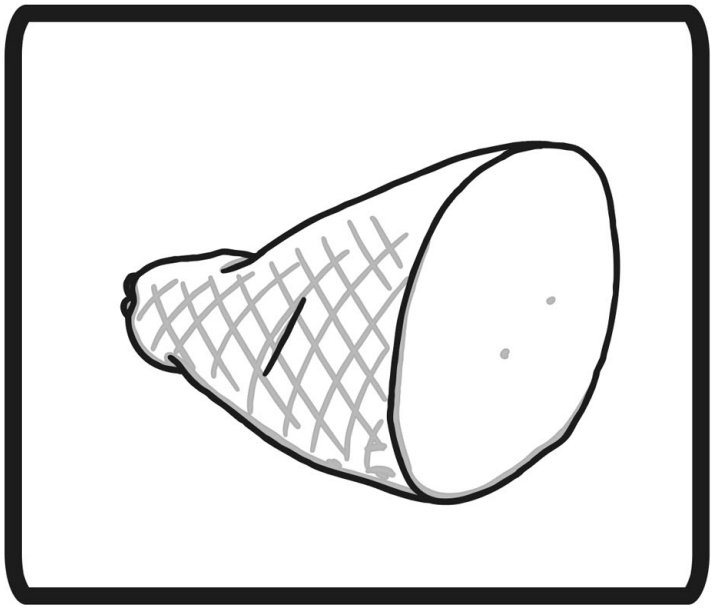
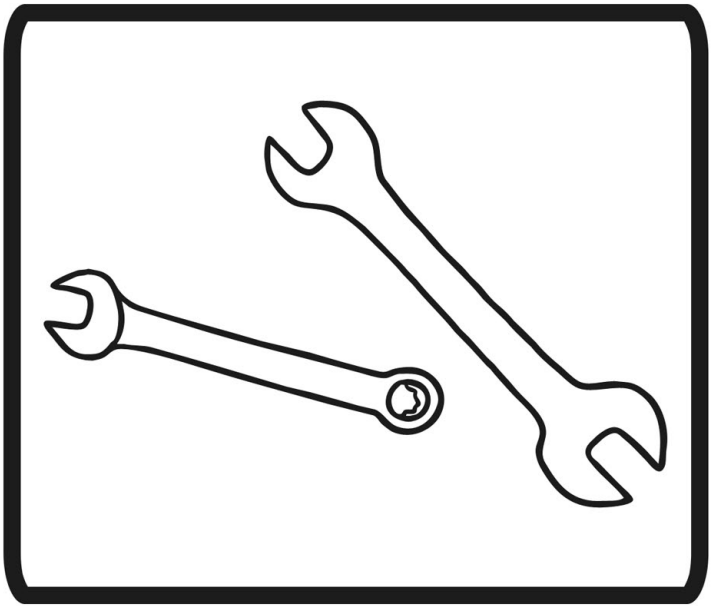
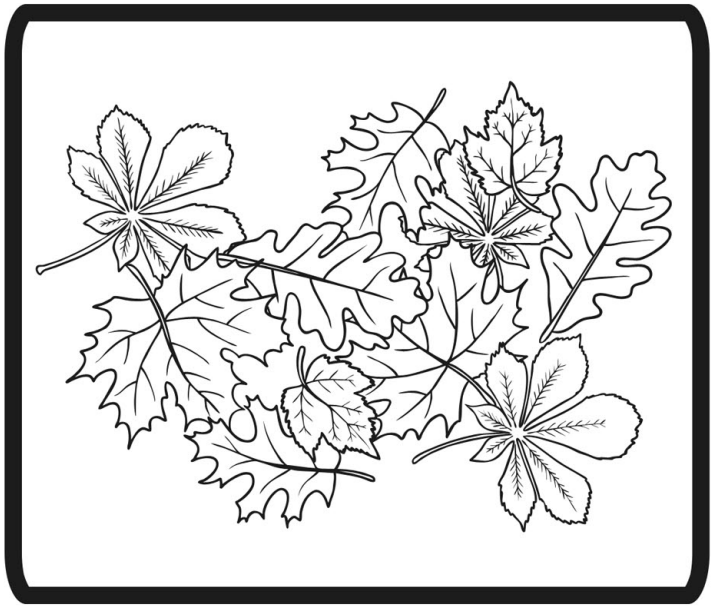
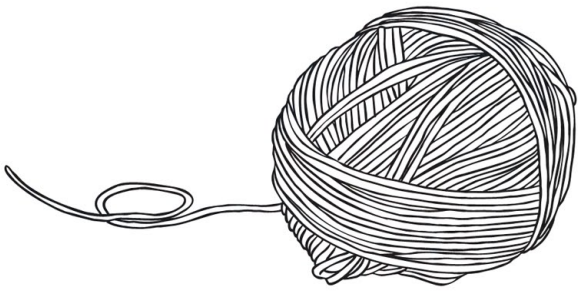
12
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11

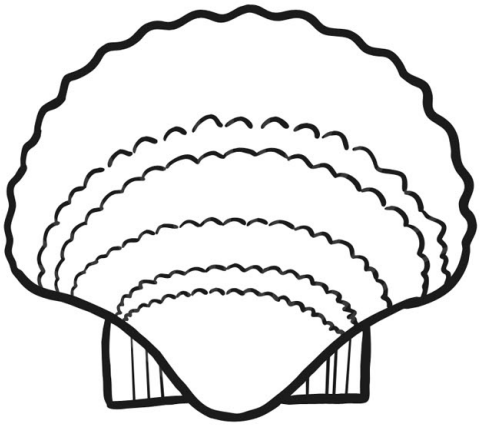


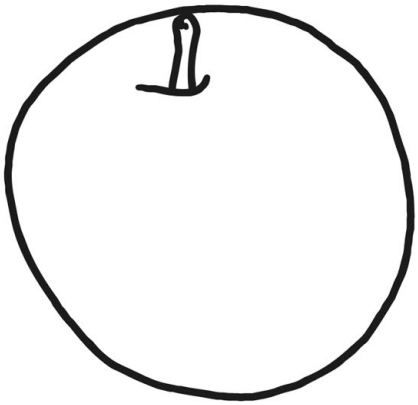


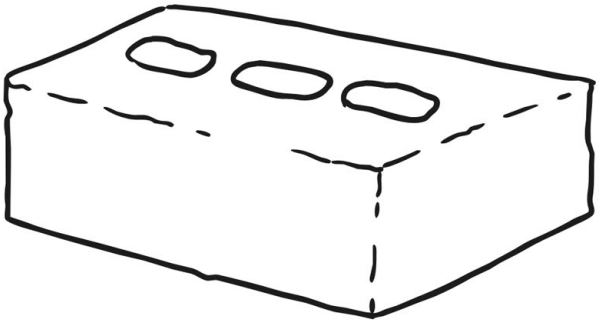




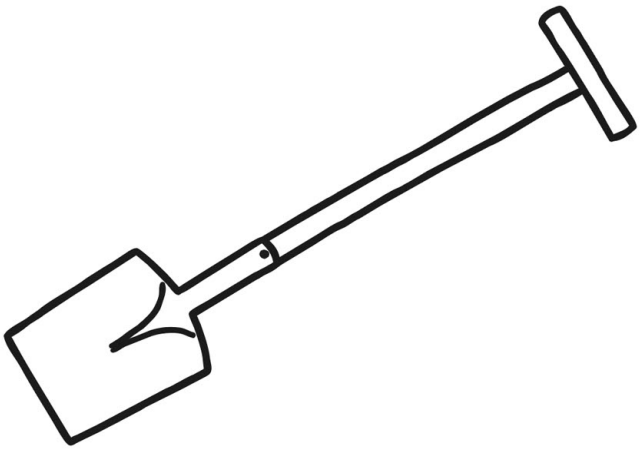


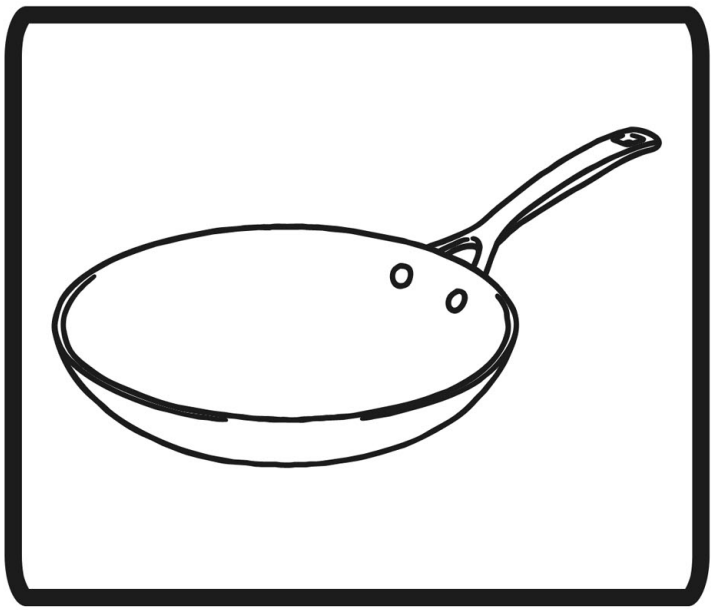


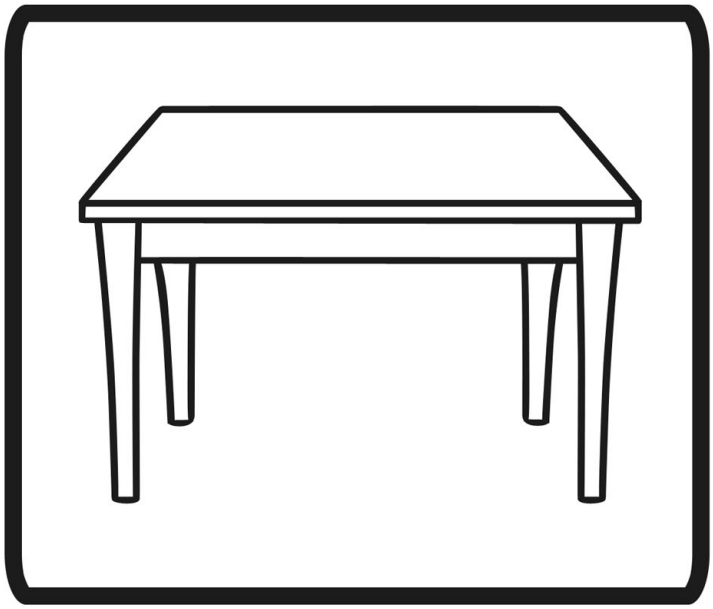


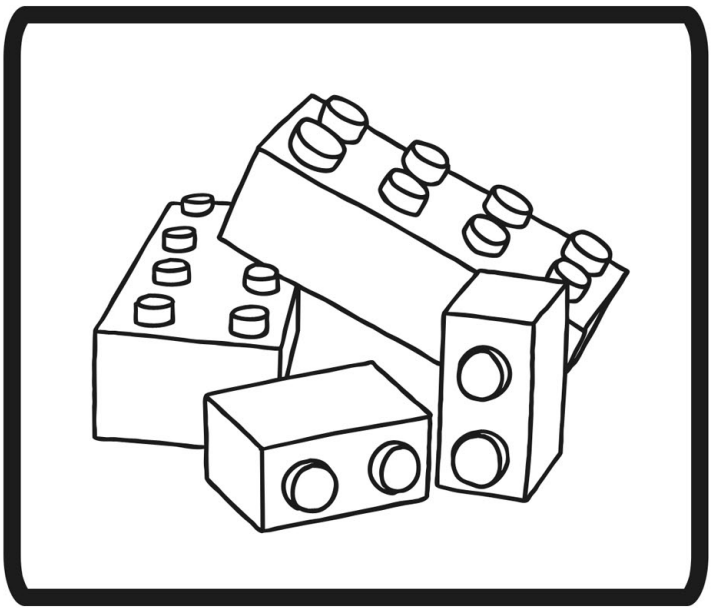


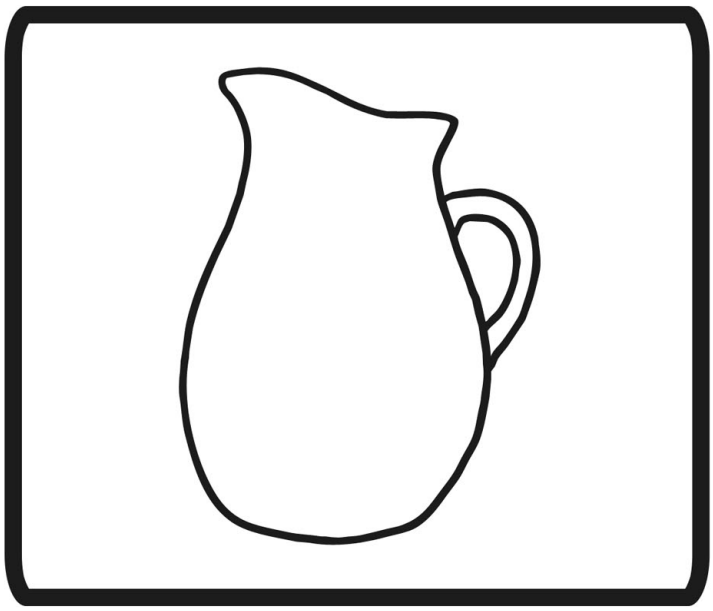
NEWS
Man Washes Socks in Cloudy Lemonade
A man from Sheffield, South Yorkshire, has been found guilty of washing his favourite socks in home-made cloudy lemonade. His neighbour, Miss Roberts, has shown horror at the news and said "I am moving house. I cannot possibly live next to this man, he is scaring me."
The number of socks found in lemonade over the course of the year has been steady.
Rabbit Owner is 'Hopping Mad'
An owner of a white rabbit has been seen hopping around his garden in an attempt to understand his furry friend. The 30 year old was first discovered by his wife when she heard strange noises coming from the patio and followed a trail of carrot crumbs.
Take Me Home
Sometimes when I'm tired I wish someone would pick me up. Put me in a wheelbarrow and wheel me straight home!
The best part would be when I

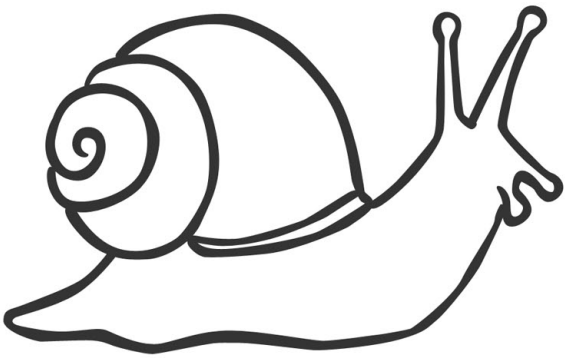


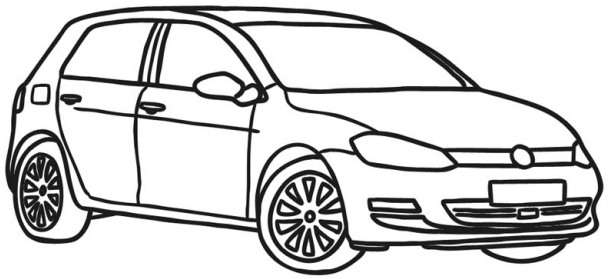


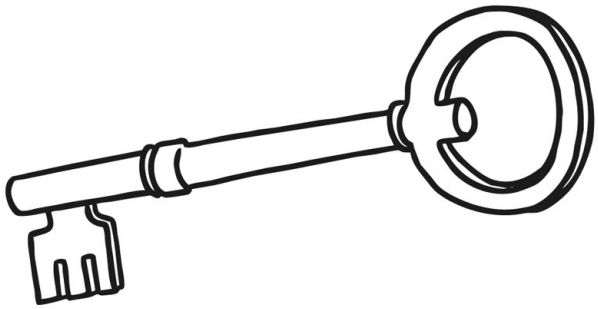


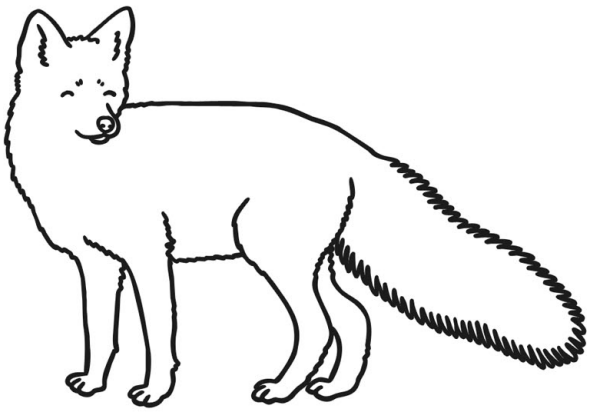


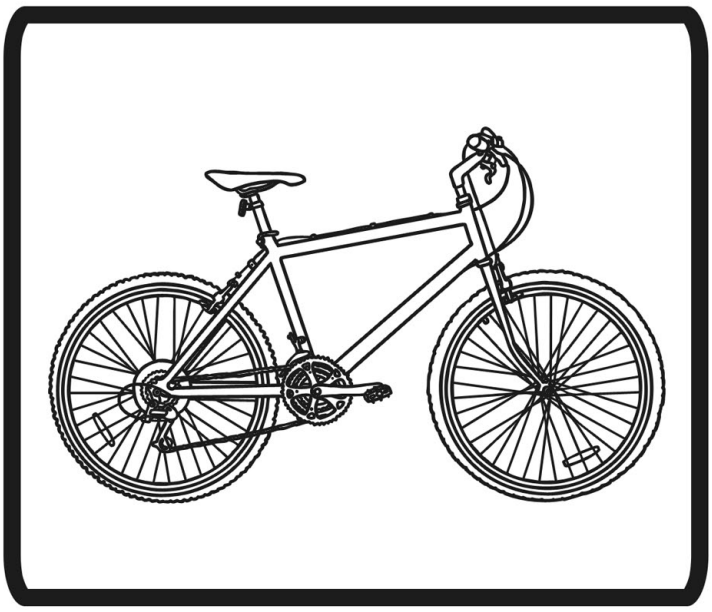


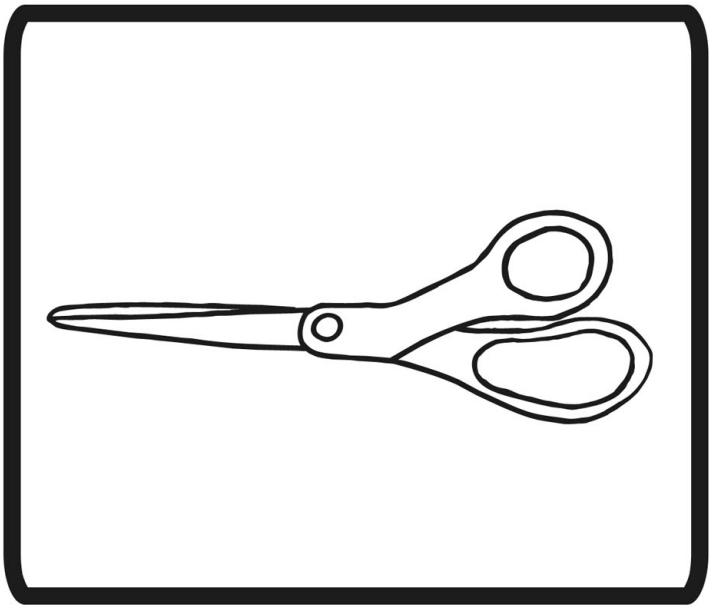


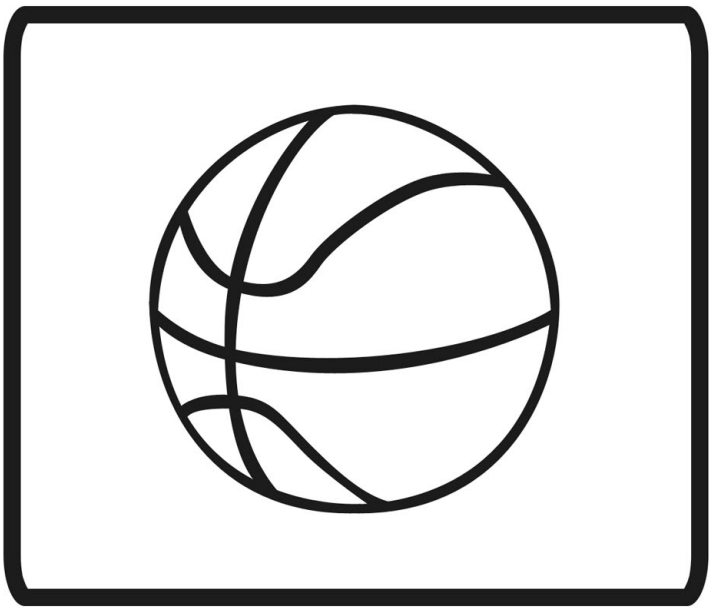


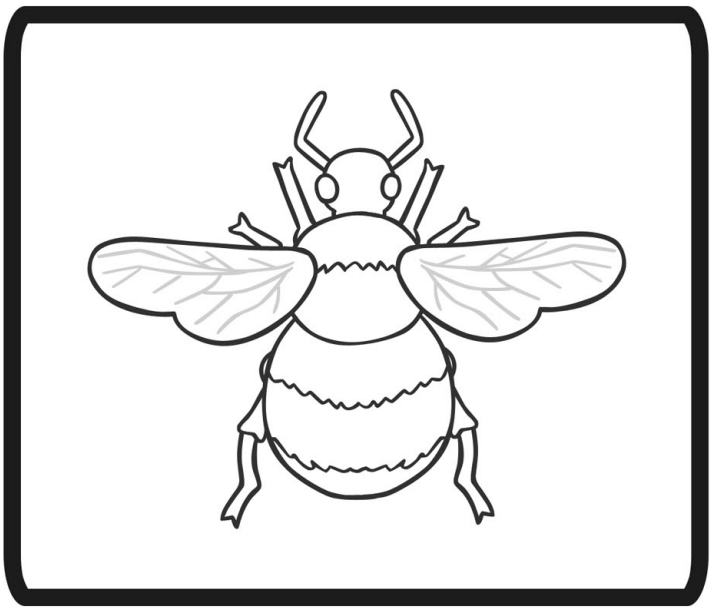


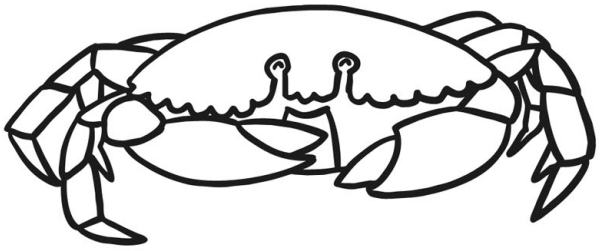


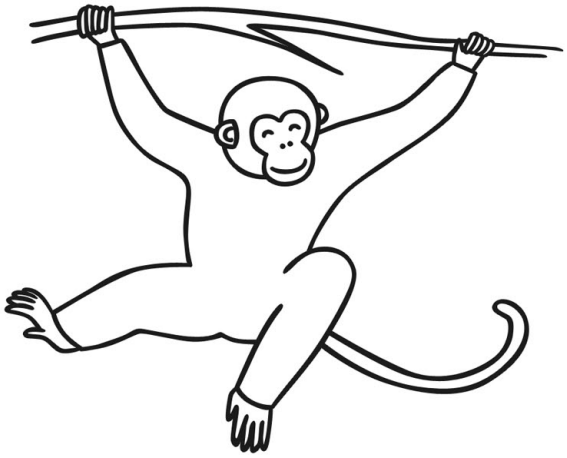












Flour
750g