

Diary Entry

Today I would like you to start a diary entry you could add to this over time and maybe it could become a hobby. It will be interesting for you to look back at this special time and by keeping a diary, it will make sure that you do not forget anything. I have included many examples for you to use with these and your own knowledge I think you will be equipped to complete a detailed account of your life.

Use your school book to record your entries or if you already have a diary maybe you could use this.
