Deep in the dark Amazon rainforest, the glittering sun warms my skin. It is humid so I sip some fresh water from the rushing river. The gentle wind blows in my hair.

I look all around and see creatures great and small. I see cheeky, chattering monkeys swinging from tree to tree. I quietly tip-toe past the lazy leopard so that he won't see me!

Next, I smell the sweet scent of juicy berries growing on the tall, colossal trees. A colourful toucan suddenly swoops down to pick a berry with its sharp beak. It soars high into the sky, far above the playful monkeys, before resting on a branch.

After that, a slimy frog hops out of the gushing river and lands on me. My shriek stirs the dozing leopard so I run away as quick as a flash!
