

1. What are the 'three worlds' that Sikhs believe God created?

2. Why is the Sikh description of creation not a creation story?

3. 'God blessed the trees with flowers and fruit'. Why 'blessed' and not created?

4. Water is mentioned in the description more than once. Give two examples:

5. Why is water important?

6. How is the Sikh description of creation different to that of the creation story told by Abrahamic religions?

7. How is the Sikh description of creation different to the Hindu creation story?