Dear Year 6 Pupils,

As you begin your SATs tests, I wanted to take a moment to wish each and every one of you the very best of luck. I have been in your school several times this year and have always been impressed with both you and your teachers.

Over the past years, you have worked incredibly hard, shown determination, and achieved so much to be proud of. SATs are simply an opportunity to show what you already know and all the progress you have made. Remember, these tests do not define who you are, your kindness, creativity, resilience, and enthusiasm are just as important.

Next week, try your best, stay calm, and believe in yourselves. Make sure you get plenty of rest, eat a good breakfast, and approach each test with confidence. Your teachers are extremely proud of everything you have accomplished, and we know you will give it your all. If you get a chance please thank your amazing teachers for all they have done to help you.

Most importantly, remember that we are all behind you and cheering you on every step of the way.

Good luck, Year 6 — you've got this!

Best wishes,

Mr Beardmore
