

I did not see Jesus with my own eyes therefore I do not believe that he is risen let alone that he has ascended into heaven.	The Holy Spirit has filled me with a stronger faith than I ever thought I would have. I promise to spread the word of God and continue to give thanks for the great things Jesus has done for us.
I feel an enormous guilt that I did not believe my fellow apostles.	I was terrified when Jesus was nailed to the cross.
I am ashamed of my betrayal. I should not have turned away from God. I should have realised that he would never let me down.	I want to touch His wounds before I believe anyone. This can't have happened. It doesn't make sense.
It brings me great joy to see Jesus again.	The Holy Spirit has brought us gifts of faith, forgiveness, and reverence.

I did not see Jesus with my own eyes therefore I do not believe that he is risen let alone that he has ascended into heaven.	The Holy Spirit has filled me with a stronger faith than I ever thought I would have. I promise to spread the word of God and continue to give thanks for the great things Jesus has done for us.
I feel an enormous guilt that I did not believe my fellow apostles.	I was terrified when Jesus was nailed to the cross.
I am ashamed of my betrayal. I should not have turned away from God. I should have realised that he would never let me down.	I want to touch His wounds before I believe anyone. This can't have happened. It doesn't make sense.
It brings me great joy to see Jesus again.	The Holy Spirit has brought us gifts of faith, forgiveness, and reverence.